District will be paying for securing sites, janitorial service, adjudicators and transportation. AEB would like to pay and use LAUSD teachers to be adjudicators. There will be instrumental and choral summits. AEB will take care of all outreach for the 220 or so secondary programs inviting groups and teachers of all levels and years of experience. AEB will encourage teachers with younger ensembles to participate. Will require teachers to have ensembles listen to at least two other groups. Called a summit mainly because each local district is producing it's own arts festival. Julie West expressed concern with the quality of the adjudicators and the level of the festival. Chris and Steve expressed that all are welcome to participate as adjudicators. Chris and Steve did mention that schools are still welcome to host their own festivals. Brian asked if AEB could support schools choosing to pursue hosting their own festival. Chris' response is the AEB had made the secondary directory accessible to all teachers. AEB cannot help with funding due to involvement in the summits however more information and research must be done to determine if promotion can be made. Discussion was had on rate of pay and equity of workload per judge per site. Steve responded by saying that active teachers would be paid their hourly rate. Julie expressed concerns over quality and qualifications of adjudicators as well as how they would be determined. Chris states that he would be happy to speak with anyone interested in hosting their own festival to answer any questions regarding the impact of the summits on AEB support of Instructional festivals.
